

'Aviator Starter Pack'

Some of history's most famous aviators – such as legendary Australian pioneer aviator Bert Hinkler and the first man on the moon Neil Armstrong – flew gliders. In more recent times, Chesley 'Sully' Sullenberger used his gliding skills to land his crippled airliner on the Hudson River in New York without loss of life or injury to anyone on-board at the time.

The Canberra Gliding Club (CGC) is offering a unique and low cost opportunity for any budding aviator to experience gliding and begin to establish the essential foundations of a successful career in aviation.

The 'Aviator Starter Pack' includes 4 instructional flights in one of the club's modern training aircraft which will cover the principles of aircraft handling and control that are common to all forms of fixed-wing aviation.

The Pack comprises -

- 30 day membership of CGC
- 30 day membership of the Gliding Federation of Australia
- 4 flights with a qualified and experienced club instructor
- an electronic copy of 'Basic Gliding Knowledge'
- a Glider Pilot Logbook
- a Pilot Competency syllabus

For anyone considering a career in aviation or gliding as a recreation/sport or looking for a gift for a family member¹, priced at only $600 the Pack represents a significant savings on the normal costs for new student members and may sow the seeds for growing
